Raving Nightmare – Total blackout

The hardcore NYE 2011-2012
...
Thinking about the inessential... in the last remaining light...
Waiting for the hour to strike... and then... a total blackout...
And just before you run dry... and think you're getting absorbed...
A new year arises... In which you will discover new horizons...

It’s no secret anymore where the real hardcore and industrial lover need to be at new years eve! No hardstyle, jump or another lame excuses in the name of hardcore, but non-stop ruthless and brutal hardcore are presented in its different forms, divided over three area's. So most of the hardcore styles are present during this definitely not to be missed event.
In 2011 it won’t be Maastricht, but the Belgian Gent where the loudest event of 2011 will take place in one of the most underground locations. The organisations FOOTWORXX and UHM have joined forces. This combination will provide literally and figuratively a musical fireworks at the last Saturday of 2011! The location Art Cube fulfills every ingredient and demands which both organizations have to be able to present a full worthy Belgian edition of Raving Nightmare. Every aspect is there to make sure 2011 can be closed for good and greet the new year 2012 with all its bringings.
For those Belgian experts this will definitely be a long awaited whish which will come true. Cause it has been 5 years ago already that the first Belgian Raving Nightmare blasted true the walls of the Brabanthal in Leuven!
